THE RAVER AND THE BEAR

What a sweet forest rave! AHHHH! A BEAR! Only the DJ can save us!
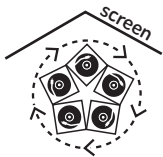

Print out two sets of album cards: one for the DJ and one for the BEAR.

The DJ picks two albums to put on their two turntables, leaving the other albums to the side.

DJ's turntables and albums

BEAR's preferred music play order continuous with no beginning or end

The BEAR shuffles their albums and randomly places them in a circle behind a screen so the DJ can't see the cards. This circle, in clockwise order, represents the BEAR's preferred album order of play — bears have very discerning musical taste.

fold and use as screen

The DJ "plays" their albums by vocalizing musical onomatopoeias. They must continually play music, switching albums till they die or get a hug.

– If an album is played out of order, the BEAR growls with annoyance

– If an album is played in the correct order, the BEAR grunts happily and wiggles its rump

– If an album is played in reverse order, the BEAR roars with anger and mauls the DJ!

If the DJ gets mauled two times, they die!!!

If the DJ plays all five albums in the right order consecutively, the BEAR gives them a big PLUR bear hug and dances!!! The rave is saved!!!
